

Novisto's Innovation Showcase at The Economist Sustainability Week US

During Day 1 of The Economist's Sustainability Week US, we had an opportunity to discuss the digital transformation of ESG management and showcase our technology solution with customer testimonials.

With the growing demands for more and better corporate sustainability information, ESG data collection and reporting practices are ripe for a digital transformation that will ultimately drive better management of business-critical sustainability issues and create value both for companies and society as a whole.

You can watch the full video here, led by our Head of ESG Innovation Marie-Josée Privyk.
